

REMOTE CAPTURE

Scan & Process from Any Location

Many organizations struggle to process forms, documents and payments received at branch offices and satellite locations that aren't equipped for commercial scanning. MavBridge™ software enables distributed offices to connect with a centralized hub using cost-effective scanners powered by Mavro's remote capture functionality.

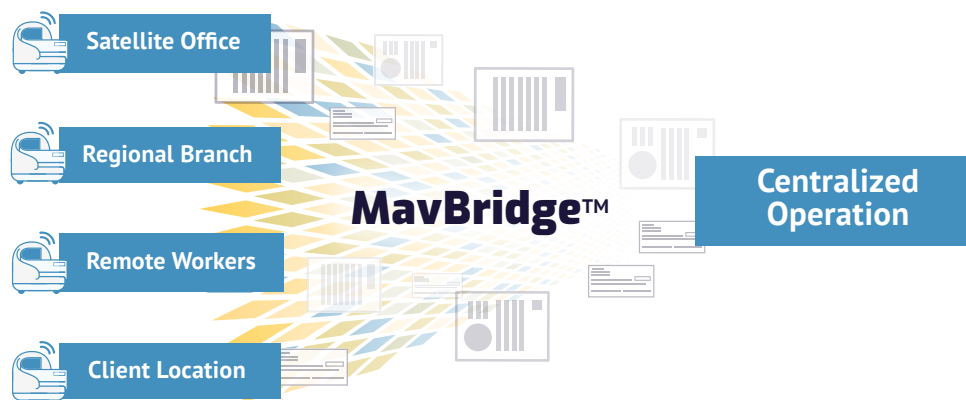

Meet today's demand for a decentralized digital mailroom to make better use of your resources wherever they are.

“Documents stranded in isolated locations can be the bottleneck of an otherwise efficient system. Closing that gap helps you better serve your customers.”
